

J.J. CORRY
IRISH WHISKEY

BOTTLING EACH ADVENTURE ALONG THE WILD ATLANTIC WAY

IRELAND'S FIRST MODERN IRISH WHISKEY BONDER

Independent and ground-breaking, J.J. Corry is the modern Irish whiskey bonder – explorer, curator, creator of unique and sublime expressions of flavour. This is fine and rare Irish whiskey reimagined.

Founded by Irish Whiskey's first female founder, Louise McGuane, our independence means we are free to select the rarest of Irish Whiskey to the most promising new-make from Ireland's many distilleries – the old guard and the new wave. In her global travels, Louise has met inspirational spirit producers and ingenious coopers in Spain, the US, Mexico and beyond. We collaborate with these partners-in-craft to source unusual and special barrels in which to age our whiskey.

A WHISKEY CLIFF HANGER

Each J.J. Corry expression tells a tale of exploration and bonding. A few miles north of Cooraclare, the home of J.J. Corry Irish Whiskey, stand the magnificent Cliffs of Moher. On the brink of these cliffs, high above the crashing waves, stands O'Brien's Tower. There's no wilder place, nowhere more dramatically exposed along the hundreds of craggy miles of Wild Atlantic coastline to age Irish Whiskey casks in.

THE CLIFFS OF MOHER IRISH WHISKEY

This historic partnership between The Cliffs of Moher and J.J. Corry is a celebration of Irish Whiskey flavours influenced by Spanish sherry and American Bourbon casks.

The finishing process of our whiskeys is heavily influenced by temperature, humidity, and barometric pressure, so exposing these casks to the endless wind, cold fronts and sea spray above the cliffs felt like a flavour adventure we had to take.
